Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Monday 08 Mar 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Fine and dry in the south. Damp in the north.

Today:
Mostly cloudy in the north with some rain or drizzle at times. Dry in the south with broken cloud and sunny spells after a cold and frosty start in places.

Tonight:
Continuing cloudy across many central and northern parts with some light rain and drizzle, mainly on hills. Clear spells across southern England where another frost is likely in places.

Tuesday:
Generally cloudy, though some sunshine across southern parts. Some light rain affecting coasts and hills, then heavy rain and gales arriving in the far northwest later.

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Wet and windy weather Wednesday, clearing to blustery showers for Thursday and Friday. Risk of inland gales later Wednesday and Thursday. Temperatures near normal, though tempered by strong winds.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.